STUDENT LIFE

At STHS, student life is a vibrant and dynamic experience that goes beyond the classroom. With a rich tapestry of opportunities and a diverse array of interests, we pride ourselves on fostering a sense of community and personal growth through our comprehensive student life program.

Our school boasts over 30 student clubs and 28 sponsored sports, ensuring that every student has the chance to explore their passions, develop new skills, and build lasting friendships. Whether you're interested in the arts, science, sports, or service, there's a club or team to match your enthusiasm. From creative writing and drama to robotics and STEM, our clubs cover a wide range of interests.

One of the remarkable aspects of our student life program is the level of involvement among our students. An astonishing 85% of our student body is engaged in an extracurricular activity, a testament to the dedication and passion of our student community. This level of participation not only enriches the high school experience but also builds essential life skills such as teamwork, leadership, and time management.

Our students are encouraged to take the initiative and create new clubs or activities that reflect their unique interests. This entrepreneurial spirit fosters creativity and ensures that our student life program is continually evolving and adapting to the changing needs and desires of our student body.

In addition to clubs and sports, we also host a variety of events throughout the year, including dances, shows, and community service projects. These events provide opportunities for students to come together, have fun, and give back to the community.

At STHS, student life is about more than just academics; it's about personal growth, exploration, and making lifelong memories. We are proud of the diverse and active student community that makes our school a place where students can thrive, discover their passions, and build lasting connections.
