

My philosophy on life...so far

- Be kind, considerate people.
- Open your mind.
- Think positively.
- Try again.
- You are smart.
- Yes, sometimes life is incredibly difficult and when it is try to lean on others for support.
- When you are up, think of those who you can help raise up as well.
- Every person has a major impact on the world and those around you.

In this room, please be considerate by:

-Being kind.

-Coming to class on time, (come to me if you think this may be hard to do.)

-Be present and put all distractions away.

You will get a zero for participation for that day if you have your phone out without permission.

-Only eat food if it is a special occasion.

Keep Clean:

- The floor.
- Any space you used.
- Your language.
- Your music suggestions.

Mrs. Greenawalt Art 1: stu·di·o

[ˈst(y)ʊdē, ɔ]

NOUN

1. a room where an artist, photographer, sculptor, etc. works.

Art is

Art is not only the action of making something, but it can be so much more. Art is a space, a place, an expression of oneself, a feeling, a stint of time, history, a dream, a line, a color, a distraction, a safe haven...

In this studio, we will focus on the process of making art and less on the final product. Although, the final product can be important at your level, practicing, making mistakes, experimenting with the materials, and leaving stress out of mix is just as important! You do not have to see yourself as an artist to be in this class.

Overview

Art 1 is an introductory course, which will give you a glimpse into the art world while providing a base for traditional drawing, painting and sculpture. In this class, it is my hope that you will discover a passion or an appreciation for art with the desire to move on and take more art classes. If you decide it's not for you, well at least you had a fun semester. I do expect you to take this class seriously and do not expect this to be an easy "A." Put in a lot of effort and participation and you will get a lot out of this studio.

Elements & Principles of Design	Tempera Painting
Blind Contour and Contour line Drawing	Shading with Pencil
Self Portrait with value shading and form	Observational drawing
Color theory, color mixing	Sculpture
Art History	Watercolor

Evaluation and Grading

Each project will be evaluated using specific criteria to that assignment. Your craftsmanship, creativity, use of time and effort however will always be graded criteria.

Class Effort

You will be graded on your classroom effort every day.

Each day of the week will count for 2 points for working hard all class, show interest, go beyond the basic assignment, clean up, work on your journal, ask questions.

-If you work ½ of the class period, you will earn 1 point.

-If you are late to class without a pass, but work hard that entire class period you will earn 1 point.

-If you are late and fail to do any work, you will earn 0 points. - this wont happen though, right!?

-If you have an excused absence, you will earn 0 points but have the opportunity to make up the work by coming after school, during lunch or before school to make up the time lost.

Mutual respect and individual responsibility

It is the philosophy of the Springfield High School Art Department that students and teachers alike practice “mutual respect.” This means that students respect one another personally as well as the artwork that is produced by their peers. It also means that students should respect their teacher and mentor who will work to guide them in the right direction. Likewise, the teacher will honor and respect the students. This is the case with all of the art teachers and students within the Art Department- you will show the same level of respect to everyone including substitute teachers.

Journals

Artists use journals as reflective tools to sketch their ideas and to document their imaginative thought processes. Reflecting on experiences and thinking about them in steps is important for growth and expressing a complete concept. You will be making a journal that may contain your notes, sketches, doodles, thoughts, and journal responses. This is worth 20% of your grade.
